

Office Fundraising Ideas

There are so many ways that your office can fundraise for Brave Foundation here are a couple of ideas:

- Hold an office BBQ, this can be done during a lunch hour or on an afternoon after work. Meats can be supplied by your local butcher, bread by your local bakery and corn on the cob by your local grocer. Ask attendees to donate $5 for the BBQ meal.
- Host a breakfast, invite colleagues to come to the office for Breakfast with a menu of Waffles, Pikelets, fruits, yogurts and muffins with participants paying $10 each.
- Pot Luck - Buy some cheap plants or seedlings from a garden store wrap in dark cellophane and sell to colleagues for $5 a plant.
- Sell ice-cream Sundaes at lunch time or afternoon tea time. Have an ice-cream bar with a selection of flavours, toppings, cones, and sprinkles. Participants make their own ice-cream sundaes for a $2 donation.
- Cake table, homemade cakes are always going to be popular with your colleagues. A bit of baking the night before will see you rake in the cash at coffee- time the next day. Organise a table in your department or take around a tray of home baked treats.
- Partner with a restaurant - Many restaurants are willing to partner with you in organizing a fundraising event at their restaurant. It's a win-win because you bring the restaurant a lot of business and they give you a portion of the food sales.

So you've decided what you're going to do a Fundraising Event, now you just need to let people know that you're doing it!
